Kevin Durant is very unique, as a near 7 footer with amazing handles. He is considered the #2 player in the world by many; however, his legacy has been tinted by the fact that he joined the best team in the NBA after losing to them.

Achievements/Records:

- 2x NBA Champion
- 2x NBA Finals MVP
- 4x NBA Scoring Champion
- 8x All-NBA Selection
- Youngest player to win a scoring title in history

Entering his 16th season, "The King" still reigns as the best player in the world. Joining the Lakers has started a new page in his career as he continues to extend his legacy.

Achievements/Records:

- 3x NBA Champion
- 4x NBA MVP
- 14x All-NBA Selection
- Most points and steals in playoff history
- Most Conference Player of the Month Awards in history
- Best Box +/- in NBA History

Stephen Curry has established himself as the greatest shooter in all of basketball history and he is not nearly done with the end of his career.

Achievements/Records:

- Most 3 pointers made in a regular season
- Most 3 pointers made in a playoff run
- Most consecutive games with a made 3 pointer

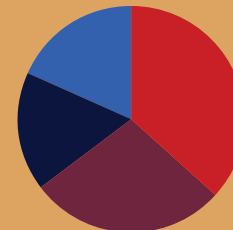

LeBron won his 3rd NBA Finals and also his 3rd Finals MVP award with the Cavaliers, showing why he has been #1 in the world for so long.

Russell Westbrook had the best season of his career after his All-Star teammate Kevin Durant left, leading the league at 31.6 PPG and was 3rd in assists at 10.4. He was also voted MVP.
